

Assessment Schedule for Contract Labour FAQ

Under The Workers Compensation Act, the Workers Compensation Board has the responsibility to provide compensation coverage for most workers in Manitoba. This includes individuals who work on a contract basis in mandatory industries.

Earnings that must be reported to the WCB for assessment purposes are calculated differently for contract workers. In these cases, the WCB charges employers on the estimated labour portion of a contract only.

The WCB has a schedule, on the following pages, for contract labour which sets out a standard labour percentage of the total contract or piecework price for various industries and types of equipment.

The labour percentage reflects an average for the industry or the type of equipment. If an employer disagrees with a labour percentage used, the WCB will consider documentation provided from the principal or contractor to support a different labour cost.

In some situations, the contractor does not provide materials or equipment when completing a contract job (for example, they do not have their own tools and/or vehicle necessary to do the job). In these circumstances, it is appropriate to report 100% of the contract value as labour. If the contractor uses their own vehicle and/or hand tools, you would generally report 85% of the contract as labour; however, if the contractor provides most materials or significant tools to complete the job, you should confirm the appropriate labour percentage identified in the following schedule.
